

WOMEN'S WISDOM

How It Is Exerted to Keep Husbands Out of Bad Company.

Charming Plans to Enhance the Delights of Home Evenings.

American Wives Prove Themselves the Best in the World.

Thousands of Them Competing for "The Evening World" Prize.

Conditions of the Contest.

A Good Recipe for Keeping a Husband at Home.

How to Make a Husband a Good Companion.

Not an Old Maid's Recipe.

Charm Him with the Children.

Different Remedies Apply to Different Natures.

Consumption.

It is his first stages, can be successfully checked by the prompt use of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.

Several years ago I was severely ill. The doctors said I was in consumption, and that they could do nothing for me.

"I have used Ayer's Cherry Pectoral with the best effect in my practice. This wonderful preparation once saved my life. I had a constant cough, thin sweats, was greatly reduced in flesh, and given up by my physician. One bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral cured me."

"Several years ago, on a passage home from California, by water, I contracted a severe cold that for some days I was confined to my state-room, and a physician at home and abroad failed to give me any relief. Happening to have a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, I used it freely, and my lungs were soon restored to a healthy condition. I have since had no return of the cold, and have invariably recommended this preparation."

"J. B. Chandler, Junction, Va."

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass. Sold by all Druggists. Price $1.50 per bottle, $5.00 per dozen.

will have a good-sized club quite handy and tell him if he went out he could not come in again.

"But, as I have good, honest 'Sam,' who does not want any other man's wife but his own, and, after a good dinner, is at liberty to go out or not, as he pleases, why the dearest spot on earth to him is 'home, sweet home.'"

Jefferson Avenue.

First of all, remember that, alas! honey-moons fly away, all too quickly, the happy pair must settle down into the routine of married life. The true husband is not unreasonable or exacting. The home and the market-place divide the life of every man. The husband must give to each its due. He must make the home more attractive, more pleasant than the life of the market-place. A man's husband has won by strong and persistent devotion.

Above all, do not risk the little rift that may be the little rift that by and by will cause you a world of trouble. The wife, by improving her own mental conditions and her material surroundings can plan all sort of pleasant surprises for her husband's home evenings.

All this can be done without the least show of authority or power. The husband, I know, likes to think of the wife rather as a guide than as a ruler. He likes to see her as a woman of home, rather than as a woman of the world.

The devoted and intelligent wife can always daily weave invisible a lion ties, which will last longer and which will be stronger than bands of steel.

She Is Certainly Happy.

I take great pleasure in reading the many recipes given by those who may call themselves very fortunate to keep their husbands home by their very good ways. As for stating the way I keep my husband home, I can only say that I would be grateful for a recipe to make him go out.

A Happy Wife.

Hits the Nail on the Head.

The best recipe for keeping a husband home evenings is to have what I have not, a true, devoted, a loving and contented wife, who is a capital housewife.

Evenings that Are "Wanted."

How is it possible for one woman to give advice to another in regard to her husband?

Men are so different in temperament and habits that I know of but one rule that will apply to all; and that is the rule of love. Man wants a practical demonstration of a woman's love, but we must be firm when occasion requires it. We must retain the respect of our husbands. A man does not want motherly supervision from his wife; he wants a companion to share his joys and sorrows alike, and happy in his life who feels assured of ready sympathy and sound advice in his life.

My husband has all the advantages of a cheerful home; but that alone would not keep him at home. His companion and helpmate alone can keep him at home. I can only say that I would be grateful for a recipe to make him go out.

Not a "Mimpering, Kissing Nonentity."

Many ladies apparently think all that is necessary to keep a husband home evenings is a good dinner smothered in kisses. What man wants a wife continually caressing him with one hand, while she holds his coat-tail with the other.

If a wife makes a home not merely a place wherein to eat and sleep, but a place where the husband will prefer to be at all other places. Be a companion and helpmate, not a mother. Teach him to rely on you in his troubles, and when the clouds loom darkest at his feet, let him see in your face a ray of sunshine and the glow of sympathy. Be a woman, not a mother. Be a woman, not a mother. Be a woman, not a mother.

NEWS OF FIELD AND RING.

IMPORTANT AMALGAMATION OF LOCAL ROWING ASSOCIATIONS.

Bicycle Race Planning a European Tour Next Summer—The Harvard-Princeton Football Race—The Harvard-Princeton Football Race—The Harvard-Princeton Football Race.

There is no doubt that rowing will receive a boom about New York next season, owing to the proposed union of the Harlem River Association with the Passaic, Long Island and Kill-von-Kull Associations.

While the defeat of Harvard by Princeton football team was generally expected, the unprecedented score was a great surprise. Princeton scored more points than have ever been made in a football game between Harvard, Yale and Princeton. Even Harvard, the defeated party, made within one point of the largest score ever made in a game between two of these colleges.

One thing is predicted as certain. If Princeton defeats Yale at Springfield next Saturday at football, she will make no such score as she did in the Princeton game. Yale will fight for every inch of ground, and will not collapse as did the Harvard team.

Pilly Murray will have a benefit to-night at West Side Hall, at which Jimmy Keenan, the "St. Paul Kid," will star Murray in the wind-up. All the prominent local boxing stars will be present.

The Pastime Athletic Club will hold their annual tournament at Park Avenue, on Saturday, Nov. 22. The weights will be 110, 120, 135, 155 pounds.

If the Berkeley Bicycle Club decides to send representatives on a European tour next summer, they will also consist of other clubs of this vicinity who join them in the trip.

The Harlem Wheelmen and the Knickerbocker Wheelmen are two organizations that, this year, have been merged into one. The new organization is called the Harlem Knickerbocker Wheelmen.

Charley Judge, whose recent bout with Joe Fowler ended in a draw, wants to meet him again in the prize ring. He offers him a challenge, and if it comes down to a fight, it will be a fight of the year.

George Schick, of 477 Eleventh Avenue, challenges any better in the United States to a hair-cutting and shaving match for stake or purse.

The Buffalo Athletic Club will offer a suitable prize to the wrestler who meets Hugh Leonard under the auspices of the Club. Leonard, a heavy-weight, will be expected to give reasonable odds.

Harvard and Yale have a ten-year contract to run their annual races at New London, which will be the last year of the old contract. The new contract will be for a period of ten years, and will be for a period of ten years.

The next great fight—one that will excite interest in the Sullivan and Sullivan fight—will be the fight between Sullivan and Peter Jackson. Jackson is a champion, and Sullivan is a champion. The fight will be a fight of the year.

Parson Davies, Jackson's manager, is sure he has a good fight, and will do all that is in his power to bring about the match. He is bringing about the match, and will do all that is in his power to bring about the match.

Since Jim Smith was knocked out so easily by Jackson, betting on the Jackson-Sullivan fight has been heavily in favor of the Australian. But there is a difference between London and New York. The difference is that in New York, the betting is in favor of the American.

Hermann Braun, the champion amateur swimmer, will no longer carry the Brazilian flag. He has been elected to the position of president of the Pastime Athletic Club.

In the Book-More.

WHOSE SWORD IS IT?

"The Evening World's" Special Election Progressing Finely.

Send in a Ballot for Your Favorite National Guard Officer.

A Magnificent Sword to Be Presented to the Lucky Winner.

Every Officer Has His Admirers—Let Them Show Their Esteem.

The polls for THE EVENING WORLD'S special election to decide who is the most popular officer in the National Guard of this State or New Jersey have been open only a few days, but the voting is already brisk.

From present indications the workers are getting out voters in full force, and everything points to the polling of a tremendous vote.

Women are not disinterested in this election, and all of the fair sex are not only entitled but earnestly invited to join their sterner companions and acquaintances in helping to swell the vote of their favorite candidate.

The campaign promises to be a merry one, and when the friendly battle has been fought and won there will be no bribery or corruption cases to be tried in the courts.

Any field or line officer of the National Guard of either State, excepting Gills, Hill and Green, who are the Commanders-in-Chief, may be a candidate.

The successful candidate will not only have the honor of being elected to the position, but he will also receive a magnificent sword or sabre made expressly for this contest by the celebrated maker of military equipment, J. W. White, of 90 Fourth Avenue, by order of THE EVENING WORLD.

The beautiful prize has been printed in these columns, and it only remains to say that it will be one of the finest ever made.

It is rumored that Miss Millard and Miss Victory, the two daughters of the late John H. Miller, are at daggers drawn, and that the reason of the quarrel is that the two girls are both in love with the same man.

It is rumored that Miss Millard and Miss Victory, the two daughters of the late John H. Miller, are at daggers drawn, and that the reason of the quarrel is that the two girls are both in love with the same man.

It is rumored that Miss Millard and Miss Victory, the two daughters of the late John H. Miller, are at daggers drawn, and that the reason of the quarrel is that the two girls are both in love with the same man.

It is rumored that Miss Millard and Miss Victory, the two daughters of the late John H. Miller, are at daggers drawn, and that the reason of the quarrel is that the two girls are both in love with the same man.

It is rumored that Miss Millard and Miss Victory, the two daughters of the late John H. Miller, are at daggers drawn, and that the reason of the quarrel is that the two girls are both in love with the same man.

It is rumored that Miss Millard and Miss Victory, the two daughters of the late John H. Miller, are at daggers drawn, and that the reason of the quarrel is that the two girls are both in love with the same man.

It is rumored that Miss Millard and Miss Victory, the two daughters of the late John H. Miller, are at daggers drawn, and that the reason of the quarrel is that the two girls are both in love with the same man.

NOTES OF THE STAGE WORLD.

INTERESTING GOSSIP HEARD AROUND GREENROOMS AND BOX-OFFICES.

An Old Gentleman Who Wanted Two Male Partners for a Church Performance—C. B. Cline to Manage J. B. Polk—Dan Colver Opens To-night at the Comedy Theatre.

"Two gentlemen actors" were advertised for the other day, and as Broadway is at present filled with actors, and it goes without saying—they are all gentlemen, the demand was naturally well-timed. Among those who noticed it were Frank Farnham, Sr., and Washington Melville, an old comedian. Both these gentlemen determined, not for the fun of the thing, to call at the address given, and see what the offer was.

The gentlemen proceeded to inform them that they would have to wear short-sleeved shirts and their trousers to be torn at each end, and then they had to take part in church entertainments, and was assured in the negative.

"What I want, gentlemen," he said, "is two nice actors of good exterior to appear as fairies in a children's performance. As fairies, I am sure, you will be able to do it, and I am sure you will be able to do it."

The actors, in their turn, punched themselves and tried their best to keep from laughing. He then proceeded to inform them that they would have to wear short-sleeved shirts and their trousers to be torn at each end, and then they had to take part in church entertainments, and was assured in the negative.

"I will pay you long," said the gentleman, "but that is all I can do. If the entertainment is successful, we shall make it all the more so. The gentlemen actors promised to consider the matter. They are doing so now."

C. B. Cline will assume the management of J. B. Polk on Dec. 9. Mr. Polk will then be seen in Broadway in his new play, "The Silent Partner." Before he starts, he will work in "French Flute" and "The Dancers' Hangover." Mr. Polk is a very popular actor in the metropolis, and his new play, "The Silent Partner," will, however, make a strong impression.

James R. Edwards, who played in "Dover" at the Windsor last week, and Mr. DeLoach, who is going to Philadelphia to appear at the Academy Theatre for one week in "The Lovers' Progress," will, however, make a strong impression.

Dan Colver, who opens to-night at the Comedy Theatre in "The Silent Partner," will, however, make a strong impression.

It is rumored that Miss Millard and Miss Victory, the two daughters of the late John H. Miller, are at daggers drawn, and that the reason of the quarrel is that the two girls are both in love with the same man.

It is rumored that Miss Millard and Miss Victory, the two daughters of the late John H. Miller, are at daggers drawn, and that the reason of the quarrel is that the two girls are both in love with the same man.

It is rumored that Miss Millard and Miss Victory, the two daughters of the late John H. Miller, are at daggers drawn, and that the reason of the quarrel is that the two girls are both in love with the same man.

It is rumored that Miss Millard and Miss Victory, the two daughters of the late John H. Miller, are at daggers drawn, and that the reason of the quarrel is that the two girls are both in love with the same man.

It is rumored that Miss Millard and Miss Victory, the two daughters of the late John H. Miller, are at daggers drawn, and that the reason of the quarrel is that the two girls are both in love with the same man.

It is rumored that Miss Millard and Miss Victory, the two daughters of the late John H. Miller, are at daggers drawn, and that the reason of the quarrel is that the two girls are both in love with the same man.

It is rumored that Miss Millard and Miss Victory, the two daughters of the late John H. Miller, are at daggers drawn, and that the reason of the quarrel is that the two girls are both in love with the same man.

It is rumored that Miss Millard and Miss Victory, the two daughters of the late John H. Miller, are at daggers drawn, and that the reason of the quarrel is that the two girls are both in love with the same man.

MILES OF CHAMPAGNE BOTTLES.

Prohibitionists Would Be Paralyzed at the Loozot at Epernay and Reims.

Epernay and Reims, in the region of the Marne, are the centre of probably the greatest champagne district in the world, says a Paris letter to the Chicago Journal. The soil is especially adapted to a fine quality of grape, and underneath are immense cellars, in which are cut out the wine cellars that rival in extent the great natural caves.

In the cellar of Meot, Chandon & Co., at Epernay, there are fifteen miles of passages, lined on each side with piles of bottled champagne 4 feet high and 6 feet deep, containing an average of a million of bottles in the cellar, allowing for side aisles and working space to handle them.

The caves of Pommery & Co., at Reims, are nearly as large, one hundred miles of the surface, where the temperature does not vary, and containing enough wine to paralyze the sight alone a whole convention of Prohibitionists.

To say that wine in this country flows as free as water is not a figure. Babies sip it, children drink it, and a grown person in good drinking condition will take from a pint to a quart at each meal.

If water flowed as freely as wine the inhabitants would have to take to their beds at noon to save their lives, for they would not know what to do with it, never having drunk any.

AMUSEMENTS.

DORISS—BIG MUSEUM—3518 1/2 Ave. C—Between 12th and 13th Sts. Nov. 18th—Mission—10:00—Reserved Seats—5c Extra.

WORTH'S PALACE MUSEUM—11th Street—Business Greater Than Ever—A Dollar Show for Ten Cents—We invite comparison with our record—Big Museum.

IVAN DOZOROVSKY ORLOFF—The Transparent Man—The Physiological Marvel of the Age.

What the press says about him: A curious human mangle.—Mail and Express. A man who can do anything.—New York Herald. His blood can be plainly seen running through the veins.—Herald Tribune. "WHALE-OIL-GUS" with his interesting lecture, "The Physiology of the Human Body," at the Metropolitan Opera House.

SARASATE-D'ALBERT CONCERTS. Messrs. Henry E. Abbey and Maurice Garbriels appear to announce the first joint appearance in the United States of these two great violinists.

PABLO DE SARASATE, EUGEN D'ALBERT, on Monday Evening, November 18, at 8:00 P.M. A GRAND SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA under the direction of Mr. Walter Damrosch.

SPRINGFIELD THEATRE—Nov. 18th—The Sale of Seats now progressing. Nov. 19th—The Sale of Seats now progressing.

BROADWAY THEATRE—Nov. 18th—The Sale of Seats now progressing. Nov. 19th—The Sale of Seats now progressing.

THE BOSTON HOWARD ATHENAEUM—Including the well-known French Comique. Nov. 18th—The Sale of Seats now progressing. Nov. 19th—The Sale of Seats now progressing.

STAR THEATRE—Broadway and 13th St. Nov. 18th—The Sale of Seats now progressing. Nov. 19th—The Sale of Seats now progressing.

STANLEY—Nov. 18th—The Sale of Seats now progressing. Nov. 19th—The Sale of Seats now progressing.

GAIN ONE POUND A DAY.

A GAIN OF A POUND A DAY IN THE CASE OF A MAN WHO HAS BECOME "ALL RUN DOWN," AND HAS BEGUN TO TAKE THAT REMARKABLE FLESH PRODUCER, SCOTT'S EMULSION.

OF PURE COD LIVER OIL WITH Hypophosphites of Lime & Soda IS NOTHING UNUSUAL. THIS FEAT HAS BEEN PERFORMED OVER AND OVER AGAIN. PALATABLE AS MILK. ENDORSED BY PHYSICIANS. SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS. AVOID SUBSTITUTIONS AND IMITATIONS.

AMUSEMENTS.

EXHIBITIONS AT ALL TIMES EVERYTHING THAT IS STRANGE, ODD, CURIOUS, HOURLY STAGE PERFORMANCE IN THE THEATRE. OPEN THE YEAR ROUND. DAILY GRAND JACQUES CONCERT ON Sunday.

WORTH'S PALACE MUSEUM—11th Street—Business Greater Than Ever—A Dollar Show for Ten Cents—We invite comparison with our record—Big Museum.

IVAN DOZOROVSKY ORLOFF—The Transparent Man—The Physiological Marvel of the Age.

What the press says about him: A curious human mangle.—Mail and Express. A man who can do anything.—New York Herald. His blood can be plainly seen running through the veins.—Herald Tribune. "WHALE-OIL-GUS" with his interesting lecture, "The Physiology of the Human Body," at the Metropolitan Opera House.

SARASATE-D'ALBERT CONCERTS. Messrs. Henry E. Abbey and Maurice Garbriels appear to announce the first joint appearance in the United States of these two great violinists.

PABLO DE SARASATE, EUGEN D'ALBERT, on Monday Evening, November 18, at 8:00 P.M. A GRAND SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA under the direction of Mr. Walter Damrosch.

SPRINGFIELD THEATRE—Nov. 18th—The Sale of Seats now progressing. Nov. 19th—The Sale of Seats now progressing.

BROADWAY THEATRE—Nov. 18th—The Sale of Seats now progressing. Nov. 19th—The Sale of Seats now progressing.

THE BOSTON HOWARD ATHENAEUM—Including the well-known French Comique. Nov. 18th—The Sale of Seats now progressing. Nov. 19th—The Sale of Seats now progressing.

STAR THEATRE—Broadway and 13th St. Nov. 18th—The Sale of Seats now progressing. Nov. 19th—The Sale of Seats now progressing.

STANLEY—Nov. 18th—The Sale of Seats now progressing. Nov. 19th—The Sale of Seats now progressing.

STANLEY—Nov. 18th—The Sale of Seats now progressing. Nov. 19th—The Sale of Seats now progressing.

STANLEY—Nov. 18th—The Sale of Seats now progressing. Nov. 19th—The Sale of Seats now progressing.

STANLEY—Nov. 18th—The Sale of Seats now progressing. Nov. 19th—The Sale of Seats now progressing.

STANLEY—Nov. 18th—The Sale of Seats now progressing. Nov. 19th—The Sale of Seats now progressing.